As stated in the Virginian-Pilot Sec-retary Dawes, of the Board of Trade and Business Men's Association, wrote yard, and Secretary Long, of the Navy Department, asking when the Mercedes would be taken to the Norfolk navy yard. He received their replies yester-day, and they were as follows:

United States Navy Yard, Norfolk, Va.

Norfolk, Va.

May 22d 1899.

E. E. Dawes, Secretary Board of Trade and Business Men's Association, Norfolk, Va.:

Sir:—In reply to your letter of the 26th instant, relative to the Reina Mercedes, I have no efficial information whatever relative to the movements of that ship. Should I receive any will let you know.

Rear Admiral, Commandant.

U. S. Navy Department,
Washington, May 22, 1899.

Mr. E. E. Dawe, Secretary Board of Trade, etc., Norfolk, Va.;
Sir:—The Department acknowledges receipt of your letter of the 20th instant, and in reply thereto has to inform you that this Department has a contract with the Merritt & Chapman
Derrick and Wreeking Company, of New York, to deliver the Reina Mercedes at the Norfolk navy yard, and until that vessel has been delivered there this Department has no jurisdiction over her.

Very respectfully,
CHAS. H. ALLEN,
Assistant Secretary.

Assistant Secretary.

It will thus be seen that, if prompt action is taken, a reception on the lines proposed can yet be arranged. Secretary Dawes has received a number of replies from his letters to various steamship lines represented at Norfolk, asking if their steamers could participate, but in most cases it seems that their regular traffic and schedules would be considerably interrupted by the loss of time that would be caused by their participation in the proposed naval parade.

It is suggested that probably enough tugs and small steamboats could be secured to make a very respectable demonstration, and that they could make just as much noise as larger boats. If anything in the way of a demonstration is to be made, action must be quickly taken.

Dr. Hope, quarantine officer of the port of Norfolk, states that he, with two assistants, will go to Old Point on Friday morning and accompony the Reina Mercedes to the Norfolk navy yard. It is not known yet whether he will insist on further quarantine of the cruiser.

some of whom have been there for six or eight months. When they were adjudged insone applications for their admittance to the asylum at Petersburg met with the response that there was no room there, that the hospital was already overcrowded. Another insone colored person is now being held for a trial on a writ of lunacy, and this will make seven insone in the jail here.

The worst feature of this bad condition as to Norfolk is the fact that in the jail here there are no suitable accommodations for the confinement of insone persons. In the report of the jail commission appointed by Judge Hanckel attention was called to the fact that these insone had to be kept in confinement with criminals of all classes and that there were no facilities for keeping them separate as required by law.
